Foreword

The wildcat, long symbolic of the spirit of Central Washington College, is familiar to all students. The passing of years may bring many changes in our campus; new buildings go up, familiar landmarks may disappear, but the spirit of the Central Wildcat remains.

It is the hope that as you thumb through the pages of this 1955 Hyakem, you will feel the presence of the wildcat on every page, as you recall pleasant memories of classes, dances, and many other events and activities.

WITHDRAWN

Dedication

*Miss Amanda
Hebler*

It is with a great deal of pride and pleasure that the editor dedicates this 1955 edition of the HYAKEM to Miss Amanda Hebler, Professor of Education and Director of the College Elementary School.

Miss Hebler was graduated from Saginaw High School and received a state life certificate from Michigan State Normal College in 1916; a B. S. from Columbia University in 1924; and an M. A. from Columbia in 1928. In 1942 she received an honorary degree, M. Ed., from Michigan State Normal College.

She came to Central, known then as Ellensburg Normal, in 1924 as an instructor in Education and supervisor of the intermediate grades in the training school. For two years she supervised off-campus training center at Selah, Washington. She has held various posts during her career and since 1930 has directed the College Elementary School. She helped plan the new building which was dedicated in 1939.

Miss Hebler has traveled extensively over many parts of the United States, made trips into Mexico, and organized and conducted an Open Road tour in Europe in 1932.

She has written many magazine articles and bulletins which have been published in the WEA Journals, Childhood Education, The Nation's Schools, and many more.

She has an active membership in several learned societies and professional organizations. She was state president of Administrative Women in Education in 1939-42 and is a member of the National Education Association, National Society for Curriculum Study, Northwest Association for Curriculum Study, Kappa Delta Pi, Association for Childhood Education, and American Association of University Professors.

Miss Hebelers sets a high standard for students to follow. The HYAKEM wishes to acknowledge this standard and express admiration for a job well done; past, present, and future.

President's Message to Students

College days are colorful, busy, and happy days in the lives of those who are preparing themselves for the professions or quasi-professions. As a consequence, college people look back upon college days as times to be remembered. In future years the year-books serve as albums to which one may turn for records and pictures of college people and college events.

The Hyakem contains pictures of students, faculty members, buildings, events and groups as they appeared during a definite college academic year. The 1955 Hyakem will be cherished by all those who were on the campus during the year.

This has been a pleasant year in the life of the college and I join with the staff in offering best wishes to the seniors who are leaving us for their careers.

I congratulate the Editor on her excellent work in publishing this volume of the Hyakem.

Robert E. McConnell
President

Your 1955 Hyakem is in reality a picture book — a through-the-lens record of a college year at C.W.C.E. Often more perceptive than the human eye, the camera lens sees Central in many lights. The tensility of a football game, the spirit of a Homecoming parade, the informality of dormitory life, the practicality of teacher education, the solemnity of commencement — all are recorded within these pages.

To you, our graduating seniors, we extend our good wishes for success and happiness in your chosen field.

To our Hyakem editor, Mary Pennington, and her staff, and to Miss Bonnie Wiley, their adviser, we extend our sincere appreciation for the many hours of labor so cheerfully given to produce this fine yearbook.

Mrs. Annette Hitchcock
Dean of Women

The Deans Counsel and Instruct

As another college year draws to a close, your Hyakem has recorded for you the thrills, the achievements, the memories, the tempo of college life.

Perhaps most important of all, it will constantly remind you of the people you knew, the lasting friendships you made.

To those of you who are graduating may I offer my congratulations and my sincere wishes for your success.

Dean Stinson
Dean of Men

Administration . . .

"I'd like permission for an overload," is a familiar question to Perry Mitchell, Registrar.
 "We'll let you know when the summer catalogue comes out" is an often heard comment from J. Wesley Crum, Dean of Instruction.

A friend indeed to all prospective teachers is E. E. Samuelson, Dean of Students and Director of Placement.

"All contributions gratefully received," says Kenneth Courson, Business Manager.
 Ernest Muzzall, Director of Graduate Studies, answers all questions about fifth year study.

Correspondence courses, scholarships, senior high school interviews — all these combine to make E. B. Rogel, Director of Public Service, a very busy man.

The Faculty Relaxes . . .

Dr. McConnell and Miss Lowe chat at the Homecoming Banquet.

Miss Lembesis counsels a student teacher.

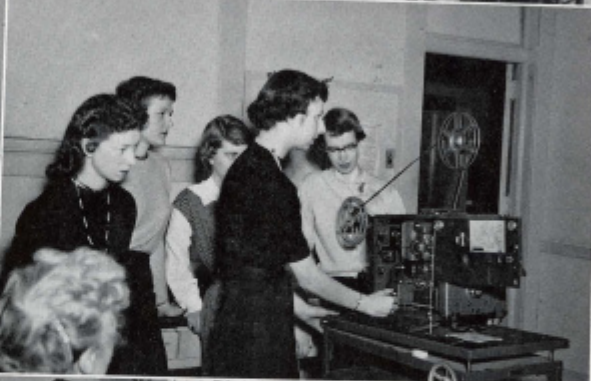

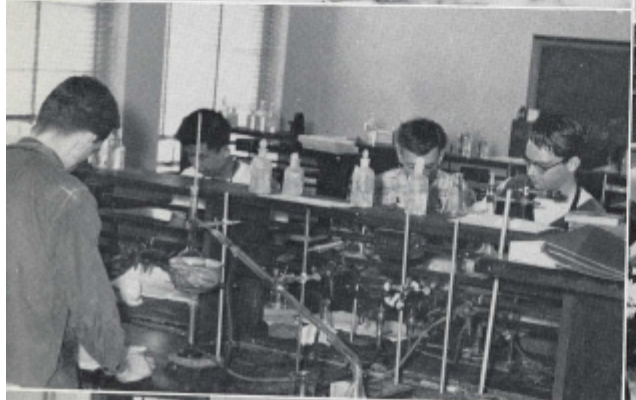

Bert Christiansen accepts a cup of hot wassail from Miss Hebel at the annual Wassail party sponsored by the faculty.

Miss Spurgeon receives a cup of coffee while Mr. Randall looks awfully pleased about something.

"Why the big smile, Dr. Keller?"

We always knew men were good for something, but these faculty members don't seem too happy, do they?

Dr. Samuelson, Dr. Keller, Mr. Randall and Mr. Rineholtz admire an art exhibit.

Students learn how to work with different media in art 1.

Sheet metal draws the attention of two interested students.

"Magic potions" are "brewed" by a chemistry class in the Science Building.

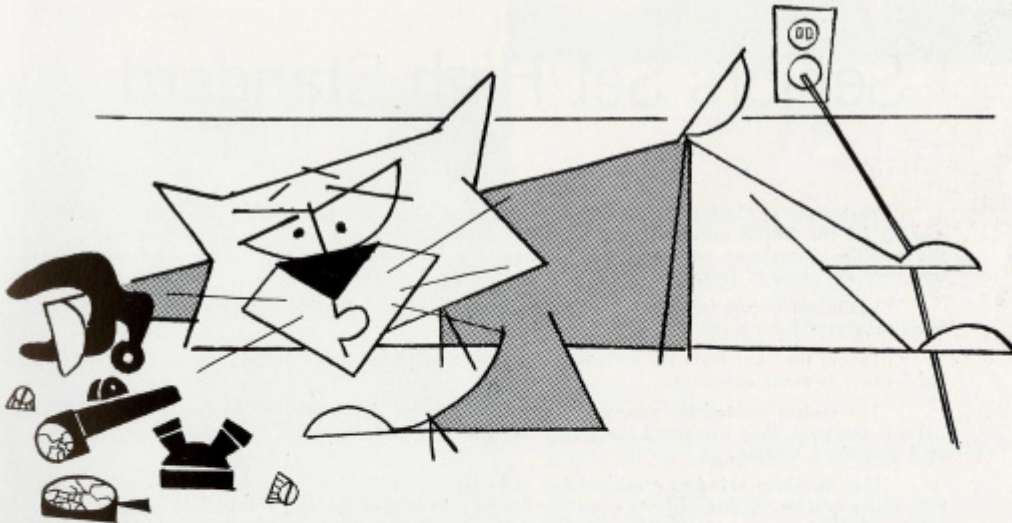

"Not a creature was stirring . . ." Sweecyites bone up in the library.

Home ec students set up a display on the third floor of the Classroom Building—where women rule.

"Now you turn this little deal here—" the intricacies of a projector are explained to girls taking visual aids.

Shop students use high powered machinery to turn out finished products in the Industrial Arts Building.

The click of machines is the only sound heard in this business education class as Central-ites learn by doing.

Seniors Set High Standard

Their time at Central sped to a swift conclusion when the senior class returned to the campus for the '54-'55 school year. Although it seemed to them a short time ago they heard the traditional freshman welcome speeches from the administration, the class of '55 realized that with the close of the school year they would be out on their own.

Education majors interviewed with school officials, and those in other programs also began the search for a job.

Taking time out from the serious business of settling on a life's work, the class of '55 led Sweezy in many activities.

The seniors started the year out with an all-college dance and a Wednesday mixer. Later in the year, they sponsored the Senior Ski Carnival at Swauk and the coinciding "Blizzard Blues" on campus.

Dick Burnham acted as president fall and winter quarters; he was replaced by Skip Connot spring quarter. Other officers were Gordon Leavitt, vice-president; Nancy Rickert, secretary; and Alice Searce, treasurer. Jim Lauritsen, Bob Sullivan and Beverly Taylor worked as social commissioners. The class was advised by Dan Oppeleman.

Spring quarter, plans were made for cards and announcements, baccalaureate, the Senior Class Banquet and Commencement. All too soon these plans became a reality, and seniors were packing old freshman beanies, books, and diplomas side by side for their last trip from Central.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

With only two years of school left, the junior class quickly settled into their familiar routine when school opened.

They elected Gary Brown class president, and chose Barbara Self, Jimmy Allen, and Chuck Schmutz to assist him as vice-president, secretary, and treasurer. JoAnn Green and Vic Olson were elected social commissioners.

One of the high spots of the year was the appearance of Les Brown and his Band of Renown at the Junior Prom on March 28. This semi-formal dance replaced the annual junior class barn dance and was an event that will live long in the memories of all Sweecyites. The junior class members who planned this dance started working early in January and didn't quit until March 29. It is hoped the tradition of a Junior Prom will continue.

In addition to the prom, the juniors took an active part in Homecoming with their skit and float.

At the end of the year, the class of '56 looked back on their junior year with pride and forward to their senior year with eagerness.

Row 2: Olson Vanderstaay, Kathryn Spurgeon.

Sophomores, Upperclassmen at last

The sophomores gave the new frosh a rousing welcome at the beginning of fall quarter. Members of the class were highly active in college functions, retaining their enthusiasm from the previous year.

The highlight of the year was the sponsoring of the Cupid's Informal. An annual affair, it was held this year on February 12 and many "shy young things" took courage in hand and asked their favorite guy to the Tolo. Many long hours were spent planning and preparing and sophomores breathed an easy sigh when Dennis Martinen was crowned King Cupid, which meant their work was over.

Jim Webster piloted the class of '57 in its second year at Sweezy. He was assisted by Harley Brumbaugh, vice-president; Dorothy Barich, secretary; Jerry Ward, treasurer; and Kathy Spurgeon and Nick Vanderstaay, social commissioners. Bruce Robinson was selected as class advisor.

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS

Row 2: Mary L. Pennington, Cliff Filleau.

Frosh Finally Oriented

At the beginning of their four-year tour of duty the freshmen thought of themselves as from Sunnyside and Seattle, Pateros and Puyallup, and Thorp and Tukwila. But fall activities soon changed these ideas.

Freshman initiation, with its early morning parking lot dances and midnight scavenger hunts, helped. Class elections were another step towards making the freshmen one unit. They began their successful career by participating in all of the Homecoming activities. The Frosh even managed to hold off the upperclassmen when they tried to light the traditional bonfire.

"Winter's Whirl" was well attended as was the dinner-dance affair held at Swauk.

The major project of the year for the baby Wildcats was making signs for the college.

At the first meeting of the year the following officers were elected: Roger Salisbury, president; Dale Mitchell, vice president; Donna Wallace, secretary; Maxine Barrenscheer, treasurer; Mary L. Pennington and Buzz Filleau, social commissioners. Mr. E. Allyn Thompson was adviser for the class.

Throughout the year, the frosh had many firsts—first college football game, first campus Christmas, and first Colonial Ball. Eventually, the class became recognized as being well-equipped with the qualities of leadership. And so, students from all over the Pacific Northwest united into one group—Central's class of '58.

Bruce Ferguson, SGA President

Another school year has slipped by and to some of us it has gone too fast. Some of you will be leaving Central to seek positions in the various fields offered graduates by our college. Have you asked yourself "Will I be a success" or "Have I done everything possible to improve myself?" Only the future will tell you the answer.

To those of you who are not graduating I say this is your opportunity to take a check on yourself; if you are in doubt, do something about it. It is your future.

It has been a pleasure and a privilege to have been your SGA President for 1954-55. It has also been a great experience for me, and although the job was combined with work and play, I feel I have profited greatly by coming in contact with various office jobs.

The SGA Council joins me in expressing my thanks to all of you for helping make our Council a successful one and may your coming years be happy ones.

Bruce H. Ferguson
SGA President

The Presidents' Speak

The Associated Women Students wish to congratulate the Hyakem editor and her staff for time, energy, and work spent in forming this book of memories for 1954-55. Each page recalls many pleasant memories of the fun and friendship which made this an active and profitable year at Sweezy.

Appreciation is also due all the students and faculty members who helped make our organization's activities successful. We hope that these activities have added to your enjoyment of the school year, as they have added to mine and those of the AWS Council.

Councils Govern Well

The SGA Council is composed of fourteen elected officers who actively administrate student affairs as established by the constitution. The Council also serves as a policy making board.

Its main projects for the year were sponsoring Orientation Week, handling the Colonial Ball, instituting a blanket insurance program for all students, securing standard awards for the tennis team, introducing a 1 a.m. weekend late leave, sponsoring an improved program of movies on campus and setting up plans for additional parking facilities. The group also purchased new scoreboards and jerseys for MIA and secured a teletype machine for the Crier office.

The AWS Council consists of five selected officers and the presidents of all womens' organizations and living groups. AWS social functions are many and colorful, highlighted by the Sno-Ball Tolo, and the school year is climaxed in the spring by an entire weekend planned for our mothers. AWS also sponsors the Spurs, the sophomore women's service honorary; they award two annual freshmen scholarships, award a scholarship plaque to the women's living group having the highest grade point average, and maintain a loan fund for the girls.

SGA Committees Meet

The members of the Honor Council realize that their acceptance of the position begins them upon one of the most delicate and responsible jobs that a college career offers. The main responsibility of the council is the accurate and just disposal of disciplinary cases referred to it by the house councils and Deans of men and women. Members not in the picture were Herb Schmidt, regular member, and Marie Fugate and Judy Grage, special members who served during fall quarter.

The Interclub Council is composed of presidents or representatives of all organizations, dorms, and classes on campus. They meet for the purpose of coordinating club activities and also publish a quarterly social calendar. All campus activities are approved by the council. The SGA Vice-president serves as chairman during the meetings.

... Discuss Difficulties,

The Student-Faculty Co-ordinating Board is made up of representatives from the student body and the faculty. The members meet to discuss and co-ordinate all college activities and is a place where faculty and students can smooth out difficulties. Topics the Board considers are functions such as Sweezy Day, Mother's Day week-end and frosh initiations.

The Union Board was formed for the express purpose of settling all matters pertaining to the College Union Building. The Board sets up all rules governing the use of the CUB, proper attire, scheduling of rooms, and maintenance and upkeep.

... Settle Problems

The finance committee is composed of the SGA Vice-president as chairman and one member from each class. The purpose of the committee is to budget the SGA funds. The committee reviews the budgets and must cut them to fit the available funds.

The election committee was formed in 1943-44. The members are appointed by SGA, the major function being to conduct all SGA elections, including general and special elections.

The dining hall committee was set up for the purpose of regulating and settling all problems dealing with the college dining halls. The committee provides for banquets, seating arrangements, and many other details.

Kappa Delta Pi

Kappa Delta Pi, an education honorary, was founded on this campus February 19, 1938. Since that time, the organization has enjoyed steady growth and has accomplished much in promoting professional standards among educational students.

During the year, Kappa Delta Pi presented programs to benefit students who will be taking teaching positions. Guest speakers and student panels presented information on appropriate topics. The organization also continued to recognize outstanding teaching practices in the Yakima Valley, a project begun two years ago. The group enjoyed many social functions, including a trip to the Inland Empire Association convention and the annual spring banquet, which concluded the year's activities.

Officers were: President, Gordon Leavitt; Vice-president, Richard Preston; Secretary, Nancy Hardy; Treasurer, Frances Shuck; and Historian-recorder, Sue Ryan. Dr. Loretta Miller is advisor for the club.

Future Teachers of America

FTA had a very successful year. During the year members sold Homecoming buttons, acted as guides during the Columbia exhibit, served as hosts and hostesses during the NCDA Conference, and assisted at several other functions. Larry DiPalma was elected Eastern District Co-ordinator at the fall district meeting. John Startzel was a delegate to the WEA Legislative Session and Dick Wining attended a student teacher conference at UBC. FTA delegates also attended the winter district meeting where Vic Olsen was selected to run for state treasurer of FTA at the state convention in May.

Officers who guided the year's activities were Mary Pennington, president; Bob James, vice-president; Cathie Metcalf, secretary; Joe Carter, treasurer; Rudy Kovacevich, historian; and Dick Hall, Librarian. Dr. Hamilton Howard and Miss Anne Lambesis were advisors for the club.

Association for Childhood Education

The Association for Childhood Education International originated in 1892. The Central chapter was formed in 1938 in honor of the late Clara Meisner. The club was originally made up of students interested only in kindergarten work, but now includes in its membership persons working with children in primary and intermediate grades.

The purpose of ACE is to work for the education and well being of the child, to promote desirable educational programs, and practices in the elementary schools, and raise standards of professional training for teachers and leaders in the field. Many meetings were held during the year to help carry out the purposes of the club.

Members of ACE enjoy slides at a Monday evening meeting.

Sigma Mu Epsilon

Sigma Mu Epsilon, Central Washington College's Music Honorary, was formed on the campus in 1936. The organization was created for students interested in music, and is open only to music majors and minors of sophomore standing or above.

Truly a busy group, the activities of the club were many and varied. They included the initiation breakfast, ushering at concerts, taking roll at recitals, choraling at Christmas, assisting at the high school solo and ensemble contests, sponsoring coffee hours after student recitals, and acting as hosts to music groups performing at Central.

The officers for this year were Richard Frick, president; John Mitchell, vice-president; Joyce Leonard, secretary; Larry Pinnt, treasurer; and Shirley Frick, historian. Mr. Henry Eickhoff was faculty advisor.

Row 2: John Weir, Myron Grubb, Ralph Harris, Bruce Zeller, Richard Hall, Landon Estep, Connie Berg, Louise Bradshaw, Mary F. Pennington.

Herodoteans

The Herodoteans, a history and social sciences honorary, is the oldest club on campus, being founded in 1923.

Membership is limited to students who have a minimum of fifteen hours in advanced courses in the social sciences, with a grade of "B" or better. Throughout the year, the club sponsored several speakers with informative as well as entertaining topics. Other activities included the Waffle Breakfast, the Beanfeed in the park, the hilarious initiations, and participation in Homecoming activities.

Officers for the year were President, Joe Carter; Vice-president, Rich Preston; Secretary, Mabel Hatcher; and Treasurer, Helen Layson. Dr. Mohler and Mr. Barto were advisors for the group.

An annual event enjoyed by all Herodoteans is the Sunday morning waffle breakfast held at the home of Dr. Mohler.

Whitbeck - Shaw

This club is designed as an organization of students interested in geography. It is composed largely of geography majors and minors but is not limited to those interested in this field.

The activities of the club this past year included an outdoor meeting in the Teanaway area fall and spring quarters, and regular monthly meetings during which slides were shown.

The club was started by Dr. Reginald Shaw and named in memory of his professor of geography, Dr. Whitbeck of Wisconsin. Upon Dr. Shaw's passing, the club added his name to the original, making it the Whitbeck-Shaw Club.

The club functions under the able guidance of advisors Dr. Kaatz and Dr. Funderburk and officers Bob Heikall, president; Bob Harper, vice-president; and Larry Steele, secretary-treasurer.

Officers and advisers of Whitbeck-Shaw Club admire a display in the showcase of the Classroom Building.

Maskers and Jesters

Maskers and Jesters, Central's drama honorary, is designed to promote dramatic activities on the campus. Members are admitted on the basis of a point system; first as under-studies, and finally as full voting members.

Club activities include service work in connection with the college plays, guest speakers, presentation of one-act plays in the spring, sponsoring of dances, extensive work in acting and producing, and participation in many other activities. The year is brought to a close with the annual picnic spring quarter.

Officers for the year were Floyd Gabriel, master masker; Sue Ryan, minor masker; Jack Turner, money masker; and Nancy Stevens, pen masker.

Members relax during the winter quarter initiation of new members.

Kappa Pi

Kappa Pi, Alpha Beta Chapter, is a national art honorary for art majors and minors. The officers for the year were Darwin Davis, president; Phyllis Rockne, vice-president; Kathy Arnoldt, secretary; Don Sheppard, treasurer; Lynn Williams, social commissioner; and Mr. Richard Reinholtz, advisor.

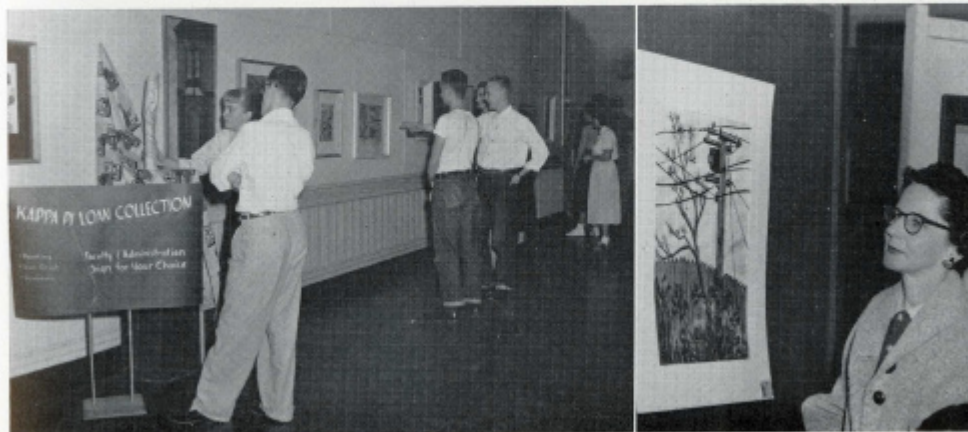

The annual homecoming breakfast was the first activity of fall quarter. The highlight of fall quarter was the annual art bazaar held just before Christmas at which members sold their work.

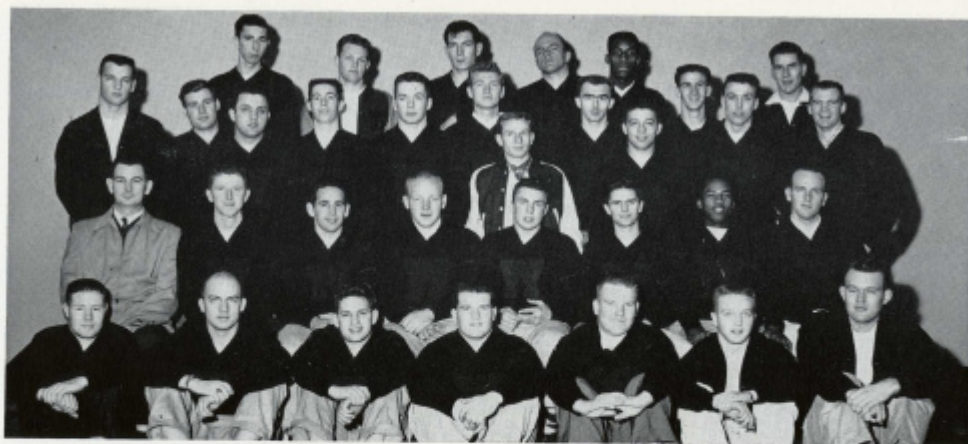

Winter quarter, the loan collection was gathered and exhibited. The faculty and administration were asked to select the art work they desired to have in their offices. Also during this quarter, the national exhibit was held in Texas with Central's Chapter taking second prize.

Two dances and the film "The Titan" were sponsored in the spring. The last activity of the year consisted of an exhibit displaying each member's work.

 Row 4: Jim Stockpole, Jack Dickinson, Remo Nicoli, Yari Jensen, Lee Foster.

Crimson "W"

The aim of the Crimson "W" Club, which is composed of all varsity lettermen of Central, is to be of service to the school. Working as a very closely knit unit, they sponsored many activities. These included the selling of homecoming football programs, the presentation of a "W" Club Smoker at the end of winter quarter, and the traditional initiation picnic the end of spring quarter. They also held a private dinner-dance party for members only during spring quarter. Something new, started by the "W" Club, was the holding of cheer-leader tryouts during spring quarter.

A very important function of the club was working at the basketball games, trying to keep spectators from walking on the gym floor.

Officers who served during the year were: President, Jerry Jones; Vice-president, Don Trombley; Secretary-treasurer, Fred Barber; Social Commissioner, Chuck Burdulis; MIA Representative, Bill Harriman; and Advisor, Mr. Glenn McDonald.

Pep Club

Perhaps the ones who sang Central's Fight Song loudest at football and basketball games were the freshman and sophomore girls who served as Pep Club members. These girls were enthusiastic rooters at every game, besides heading many activities throughout the year.

Nearly 50 strong, the group started the '54-'55 school year by handling the assembly for the election of songleaders and cheerleaders. From there, they went on to enter a drill team in the Homecoming Parade and head the serpentine to the Homecoming Bonfire.

Crimson and black pompoms that decorated many rooms on the Sweezy campus were sold through Pep Club. This vigorous organization sponsored a mixer and their traditional "Hard Times" dance. Pastry sales kept the sweet tooth of fellow students satisfied after vacations.

Officers for the year were Darlene Brown, president; Helen Argus, vice-president; Karen Larsen, secretary; Roberta Pickering, treasurer; and JoAnne Almaden, social commissioner. Miss Helen Gould acted as adviser for the group.

PEP CLUB

Pep Club enjoys an informal, relaxing meeting.

Women's Recreation Association

Competition between the women's living groups was heightened this year through the WRA-sponsored teams in volleyball, basketball, softball and badminton.

In addition to this competition, WRA sought to promote better fellowship and sincere interest in the activities of the club by giving each member an opportunity to take part wholeheartedly in group and individual activities.

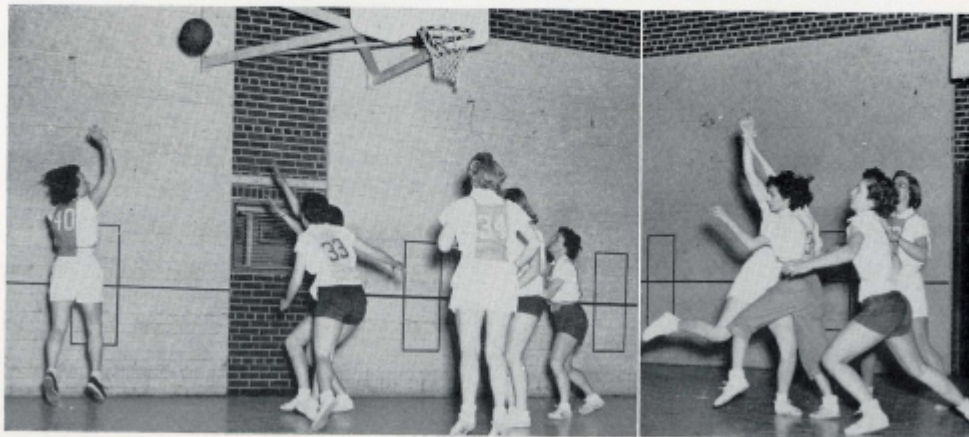

A Saturday recreation hour was held during winter quarter. Socials, swimming parties were on the group's schedule, as well as the annual Antlers Hotel banquet.

Officers were LaVerne Roberts, president; Olive Wilbur, vice-president and treasurer; Helen Argus, secretary; Areta DeWalt, social commissioner; Beverly Crumpacker, sports manager; Darlene Pawlak, publicity manager.

Leela Zion was adviser. Mrs. Alyce Cheska, Peggy Gazette, Anna Pavloff and JoAnne Calderwood were advisory members.

Phremms

This club is a professional organization for all women physical, health, and recreation education majors and minors. It was organized in December, 1953, by the women members of the physical education faculty.

The members meet once a month and a program follows the regular business meeting. One of the programs was a panel discussion on "Why I Like Being a Teacher." Other activities included a get-acquainted party, a high school sports day, and the annual car wash. The club also sponsored a booth for the Sweezy Day carnival.

Officers for the year were Sally Brown, president; Beverly Crumpacker, vice-president; Peggy Northcutt, secretary; Darlene Brown, treasurer; and Anne Coulston, publicity chairman.

Outdoor

"I'm happy when I'm hiking," could very well be the theme song of that hardy group of Centralites who compose the Outdoor Club. This club was organized for the purpose of acquainting students with and helping them develop an appreciation of the great natural playground that lies around them. With such a goal in mind, many activities were sponsored during the year to help them realize that goal. One of these activities was a mountaineering instruction course sponsored during winter quarter. The organized program consisted of hiking, skiing, mountain climbing, and the practicing of conservation principles.

Officers who led the hearty hikers during the year were President, John Grove; Vice-president, Dean Puryear; Secretary, Janet Schacht; and Treasurer, Teddy Coulton.

Recreation Club

The Recreation Club was organized in 1949 to give recreation majors and minors an opportunity to discuss and exchange ideas and gain experience in their chosen field.

One of the main events sponsored by the club is Co-Rec Night. The gym is set up with various games at these informal fun nights, including volleyball, ping pong, basketball, tumbling, checkers, shuffle board, trampoline and other activities. Dances and a mixer were also sponsored by the group during the year.

"Swing your partner." "Promenade all." Anyone entering the women's gym on Wednesday night would soon be in the "swing" of things, for Do-Si-Do members were willing to teach one and all to square dance, polka, or waltz.

The Do-Si-Do meetings were held so that any student interested in folk dancing could get together, learn the various dances, and enjoy an evening of fun.

During fall quarter, the club sponsored an all-college dance "The Hay Loft Hop." They also sponsored a Wednesday night mixer during winter quarter. A hilarious picnic during spring quarter ended the year's activities.

Officers for the year were Jack Garvin, President; Pat Short, Vice-president; and Eloise Anderson, Secretary-treasurer. Miss Anderson resigned during winter quarter and Jean Hobbs was elected to the office. Miss Anna Pavloff was advisor for the club.

Dance Club

To share a common interest in dance, members of Central's Dance Club attended programs, developed advanced techniques, and developed their techniques of choreography.

For the first time, men were allowed to join. Members had an apple concession at a basketball game to raise money for costumes. They presented a selection entitled "Mississippi Suite" for the Mothers' Day program, and attended a dance symposium in Idaho during March.

Officers for the group were Frankie Newman, president; Ann Clatworthy, vice-president; and Barbara Plemons, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Alyce Cheska acted as adviser.

In the year 1940, Modern Dance Club was developed as a section of WRA. In the last two years, it has existed as a separate organization answering a special need for students desiring to develop dance appreciation.

Home Economics Club

The Home Economics Club, which is affiliated with the American Home Economics Association, was first welcomed on the C.W.C.E. campus in 1941. The home economic majors and minors who were ushered into the realm of the club soon found themselves actively engaged and working in a spirit of cooperation and friendliness. The new members soon learned of the important part that the field of home economics plays when they were presented with many opportunities to develop leadership and self reliance.

At the club's regular monthly meetings the members enjoyed many special functions such as an initiation, a party in the spring in honor of seniors, and various interesting speakers who talked during the meetings. The highlight of the year for the club came on Feb. 14 when they set the mode-o'-day for campus wear with their all college style show.

Under the excellent guidance of club advisors Miss Jeannette Ware and Mrs. Anne Morgan, the officers who sparked the club for the year were Nathalie Heinz, president; Daryl Chellis, vice-president; Cathy Metcalf, secretary; Wilma Bettas, treasurer; Donna Follin, scribe; and Eloise Anderson and Margaret Stobbs, co-catering chairmen. Meg Anderson was appointed co-chairman for the winter quarter in the absence of Eloise Anderson.

Industrial Arts Club

The Industrial Arts Club was organized in 1949 and has continued to grow and develop into an important student organization. The major objective of the club is the promotion of Industrial Arts Education.

The members also perform many services for the campus. A project this year was the construction of eight maple smoking stands for the College Union Building. Each year the members also make gifts and toys for the annual Christmas sale.

An affiliate of the American Industrial Arts Association, the club sponsors many activities to help increase the knowledge of its members. Among these activities is the sponsoring of numerous outside speakers.

Officers for the year were Kenneth Landeis, president; Bill Tucker, vice-president; Joan Scroup, secretary; Roberta Pickering, treasurer; and Ed Waddell, reporter.

Arnold Air Society

Arnold Air Society is a national honorary society for advanced AFROTC Cadets. Its purpose is to further the mission of the Air Force at the college and university level by encouraging greater teamwork, development of technical knowledge, cooperation, and esprit de corps. This organization was named after the late General H. Hap Arnold, Commanding General of the Army Air Forces during World War II. Central's chapter is called the James Kelly Squadron after a local World War II hero.

An initiation dinner was held during fall quarter at the New York Cafe. A special project was the making of a sign for the AFROTC Detachment. The main event of the year was the sponsoring of the annual Military Ball during spring quarter. The meetings of the group were held every two weeks with occasional guest speakers.

Major Shelton D. Kem is advisor for the group. Officers were Donald Stone, Commander; Gary Orr, Executive; Kenneth Lukens, Operations; Mathew Balint, Adjutant Recorder; Marion Smith, Comptroller; and Don Beste, First Sergeant.

Vet Club

Vet Club was first organized during spring quarter of 1954. Standards of membership were set up and officers for the coming year were elected. A main requirement for membership is that the individual must have served on active duty for a period of not less than six months.

The aims of the club are numerous, varied, and constructive. As the membership becomes larger, interest is greatly stimulated. The aims includes helping veterans adjust to college life, sponsoring social functions on campus and assisting in any way possible to help make the campus a better and more enjoyable school for everyone.

The first year was a very successful one. The club sponsored several dances, private functions, worked on school committees and problems, and took an active part in Homecoming and other school events.

Officers during the year included Walford Johnson, president; Carl Blumer, vice-president; Charles Saas, social commissioner; and Peggy Northcutt, secretary-treasurer. The position of vice-president was taken over by George Wolfe when Carl Blumer was unable to return to school, and Earl Ungerecht was elected secretary-treasurer to succeed Peggy Northcutt. Dr. Pettit served as club advisor.

Spurs

Spurs, a national honory for sophomore women, celebrated their sixth birthday on the CWCE campus this year. Chosen for their scholarship, patriotism, understanding, responsibility and service to the school, Spurs were active in many functions.

Carrying out their motto of "At Your Service" the group aided in registration, ushered at plays, helped with the Blood Drive, and worked in many campus tasks. The Spurs gave a Homecoming skit entitled "S.P.U.R. Apron," a take-off on "H. M. S. Pinafore."

At Christmas, the Spurs "adopted" a family and made the holiday season a bright one for them. They sold sandwiches in the girls' dorms each Sunday night.

The highlight of the Spur year was the Regional Convention held on the campus. The CWCE Spurs were hostesses to Spur groups of Washington, Oregon, Montana, and Idaho. The weekend was climaxed by a banquet and all-college dance.

Spur officers were Dorothy Barich, succeeding Janet Martin as president winter quarter, Donna Doering, vice-president; Shirley Larkin, secretary; Morag Robertson, treasurer; Darlene Brown, historian; and Arlene Stokes, editor. Phyllis Monasmith acted as junior adviser, and Janet Lowe of the faculty was senior adviser.

Sigma Tau Alpha

Rainbow Girls at CWCE participated in Sigma Tau Alpha, an organization for college girls who wish to retain their activity in Rainbow.

As a service organization, STA assisted with freshman orientation week, made placards for the Homecoming Banquet and Union Board Party at Christmas, and presented the annual style show for Mother's Day. During winter quarter, the group sponsored a skating party and a Wednesday night mixer.

One initiation was held each quarter for new members. The Ellensburg Rainbow Assembly gave a potluck dinner honoring Sigma Tau Alpha, and both groups attended church together April 3.

Officers elected for the year were: Lavonne Soule, president; Beth Beckman, vice president; Donna Bell, secretary; Diane Boone, treasurer; Sally Brown, chaplain (Kathryn Campbell pro-tem); Eulalie Pollock, social commissioner; Joan Tomlinson, musician; Joan Fortner, publicity chairman; and Mrs. Foote, adviser.

Blair Mortensen, Chuck Burdulis.

Alpha Phi Omega

The Eta XI Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega was organized on the campus of CWCE in 1949 as a service organization of past Boy Scouts who would like to continue their scouting activities in college. It is designed so that past scouts on campus may meet and know each other and work together. Its aims are service to community, service to campus, and service to self.

During the past six years the club has done many service projects for the campus. This year was also very successful and APO members are proud of the activities in which they participated, including construction of signs for each of the dorms, two mixers, the "Handsome Harry" contest, construction of a permanent bandstand in the Walnut Street Cafeteria, and work on the Sweezy Day clean-up committee.

Officers who led the year's activities were: President, John Snypp; Vice-president, Jeray Holmes; Corresponding Secretary, Joe Venera; Recording Secretary, Tom Newell; Treasurer, Frank Pino; Historian, Bill Bourn; and Publicity Chairman, Mike Lacey.

International Relations Club

Activities of the International Relations Club got underway fall quarter when the club sponsored the United Nations Week. Exhibits of foreign coins and stamps and a large globe in the CUB were on display. The week was highlighted by a United Nations mixer. Another important project was the International Foreign Student road show which was brought to the campus on March 23. Townspeople and students all enjoyed this show featuring foreign students attending the University of Washington doing songs and dances of many countries. During University Week the film "Mahatma Gandhi" was shown. At their weekly meetings the club members heard a guest speaker tell about some phase of international life. IRC also assisted the Model United Nations Delegation prepare for their trip to San Francisco.

Officers for IRC were: President, Jeff Vowles; Vice-president, Rowena Lewis; Secretary-treasurer, Colleen Moore; and Advisor, Dr. Elwyn Odell.

Business Club

The aim of the Business Club on the Sweezy Campus is to promote interest among students in the field of business, economics, and secretarial science. All students majoring in business are eligible for membership. Members this year enjoyed a variety of informative meetings, including talks by local businessmen, members of the club, and out-of-town guest speakers. These meetings helped to acquaint the members with job information, requirements, compensations, and problems of the various fields.

Newly organized during the year 1953-54, the second year was guided by the following officers: President, Art Martin; Vice-president, Ed Brandt; and Secretary-treasurer, Jan Savage. Miss Helen Gould and Dr. Harold Williams along with other faculty members in the social science division were advisors.

Viewing of a film was but one of many interesting activities enjoyed during the year.

SCIENCE CLUB

Row 2: Chuck Burdulis, Roger Fish, Tom Carlson, Remo Nicoli, Bernie Martin, Bill Sampson, Herb Henley.

Science Club

The Science Club was organized on this campus for the benefit of science majors and minors. The purpose of the club is to interest members in new developments and new ideas in science. The bi-quarterly meetings allow the members a chance to present experiments and discuss ideas among themselves. Participation is not limited to just students for faculty members and outside speakers add interest to the club. Among the activities for the year was working on the Science Day program presented in conjunction with Senior Day for high school seniors visiting the campus.

Mysteries of a formula are explained by Bernie Martin to interested onlookers.

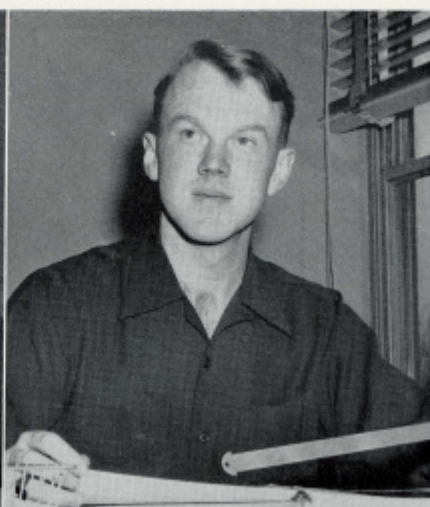

Mary Pennington, Editor

At one time or another, everyone has experienced a time when nothing goes right, but to an annual editor this seems to be a continual state of affairs. The trials and tribulations seem endless.

A lot of hard work was spent by the staff to try and make this the best annual yet. They tried to keep in mind what the students, as they flick the pages and glance through the book in years to come, will want to see and remember. They hope that a fact here, a group there, or an incident, will enliven every page.

... School Life

Bonnie Wilcy, Advisor

There was little time for relaxing from the time a theme was decided on until the last dummy page was crossed off. But there are compensations for the hard work, the greatest being the enjoyment of the students as they look at their annual. And when it seems as if everything is going wrong and deadlines will never be met, last-minute difficulties iron themselves out and the first thing the staff knows, the finished book is ready for distribution.

It is the hope of the editor that this edition of the HYAKEM will be enjoyed by the students and faculty alike and will alone serve as a "book of memories" for the year 1954-55.

Lila Malet, Editor

Every Friday morning except on holidays and during test week the cry goes up, "The Criers are out!" There is a mad dash and scramble as students reach eagerly for the campus newspaper.

Lila Malet has done an outstanding job as editor of the CRIER this year. Together with her staff she has brought forth to the campus a variety of interesting news stories and events. She has had as a very capable right hand, Roger Asselstine, as associate editor. Russ Jones and Colleen Moore were business managers, Bert Holmes, photographer, and Bill Leth sports editor. Many others gave much of their time to writing copy and attending to the other numerous details in putting out the weekly sheet.

of Weekly Events

Bonnie Wiley, Advisor

An addition to the CRIER office this year was the installation of the Associated Press News Service teletype which brings in the world events as they happen. Very few schools have this service and Central is proud to be one of them. Page five is devoted to the top events of the week.

Despite the hours of hard work and activities carried on under the simple warning, "meet the deadline," all members agree that, after all, it was a lot of fun, and a lot of valuable knowledge and experience was gained from working on the CAMPUS CRIER.

Left: Chicken wire and butcher paper were only a few of the things Kamola girls used to "stir up" their Homecoming sign.

Right: Kamola, dressed for the Christmas Carol competition, looks to Deloris Filleau for direction.

Kamola Hall started a year off with frosh initiation, firesides, and the Shoeless Shuffle. The girls ended fall quarter with a very merry Christmas party for the dorm.

During winter quarter, Kamola sponsored another all-college dance, and a highly successful All-College Bingo Party.

Spring quarter, which is usually viewed from a Vantage point, saw Kamola sponsor the annual Kamola Rat Race and a private formal.

Besides all of the dorm-sponsored activities, Kamola was active in homecoming, Christmas, and Sweezy Day celebrations.

The officers of Kamola for this very eventful year were: President, Marion McCasland; Vice-president, Peggy Conway; Secretary, Florence McCracken; Treasurer, Janice McAdams; Social Commissioners, Jackie Irby and Darlene Pawlak; SGA Representative, Deloris Filleau; Scribe, Patti Clark; and Frosh Representative, Mary Esther Anderson.

Mrs. Margaret Church was Kamola's housemother, and Margaret Stobbs and Marilyn Olberg were assistants.

"We are the Kennedy gals, we'll always be your pals!" Singing the traditional song of the dorm, Kennedy's 98 girls serenaded the other living groups during the first week of school.

Homecoming found "the girls from the other side of the railroad tracks" with a second place trophy for the space-ship float. At Christmas, under the direction of Janet Donaldson, the girls won first place in Sigma Mu's choral competition.

"I Love You Truly" was sung many times at house meetings, for many Kennedy girls became engaged during the year. On weekends, visitors to the lobby were sure to see girls in everything from formals to ski togs, for Kennedy residents led an active social life.

With 1954-55 president, Beverly Hoback, were Hazel Lenton, vice-president; Jeannie Springer, secretary; Mary Lou Searle, treasurer; Pat Kehl, hall proctor; Gayle Edwards and Diane Williams, social commissioners; Lee Andrews, SGA representative; Loree Sliffe, historian; Pat Kelleher, bulletin board chairman; Joan Stevens, courtesy chairman; Sylvia Stevens, West Hall representative; Gloria Sandona, North Hall representative; and Lynn Zander, East Hall representative. Mrs. Anne Miller was housemother.

Bettie Bailey (Jon McCready) looks surprised but Off-Campus Women who participated in homecoming skit seem to be enjoying themselves.

"Names, names, names," muttered the typists as they busily prepared the copy for the Who's Who, which is the Central Student-Faculty Directory. The publishing of the Who's Who was but one of the activities engaged in by the Off-Campus Women. They participated in an original skit at Homecoming which was written by the Off-Campus Men. A joint meeting with Off-Campus Men was also held fall quarter. The first quarter also saw the gals take to the wheels when they sponsored the first all-college skating party at the Merryland Rink. They also sponsored the last dance of winter quarter. Despite many headaches and much hard work, the highlight of the year was the May Prom, which is the last all-college formal of the year. This dance bids a fond farewell to Sweezy seniors.

Officers for the year were President, Mary Pennington, Vice-presidents, Barbara Newell during fall quarter, and Barbara Conrad during winter and spring quarters; Secretary, Mary McMorrow; Treasurer, Alberta Hatzenbeler; Social Commissioner, Darlene Schiffner; Reporter, Geraldine Poland; and SGA Representative, Donna Ferguson. Mrs. Anne Morgan advised the group.

1954-55 was a busy year for the girls of Sue Lombard Hall. They began the year with the traditional progressive fireside. Come Dad's Day, they had a tea and open house for the Sue Lombard residents' fathers. Homecoming was next on their agenda. First place went to Sue for their skit at stunt night. The Homecoming sign received honorable mention.

During the Christmas season Sue girls again brought home high honors for outstanding dormitory decorations on campus. Other activities during the year were firesides, mixers, the annual "Watch Night" dance, and winner of first place in the blood drive.

Officers of the hall were: Colleen Martin, president; Nancy Rickert, vice-president; Darlene Brown, secretary; Beth Beckman, treasurer; Anne Coulston, social commissioner; LaVonne Soule, courtesy chairman; Joan Reese, historian; Maxine Barrenscheer, assistant social commissioner; Helen Layson, Roberta Carter, Patricia Thomas, Joyce Barnhart, wing leaders; LaVerne Roberts, SGA representative, and Mrs. Janet Thorn, housemother.

Alford . . . Carmody

Small but mighty Alford Hall was the guiding light behind many campus activities during the year. Fall quarter the dorm won third place in Homecoming activities for their sign and float. Other activities included a mixer, an all-college dance and several private functions. Officers during the year were President, Tom Carlson; Vice-president, Ross Simmons; Secretary, Gary Irvine; Treasurer, Stan Day; Social Commissioners, John Chan, Don Gano, and John Rosenkranz; MIA Representative, Edward Everett; and Sergeant-at-arms, Dick Weber and Allan Youngblood.

The men of Carmody Hall successfully entered college life with a purpose. The aim of the dorm was to try and make the pre-fabs a better place in which to live. They sponsored several college events including a co-rec night, firesides, and dances. They were active in MIA with a flagball team and two basketball teams. Officers for the year were President, Louie Schultz; Vice-president, Don Sorenson; Secretary, Hugh Glover; Treasurer, Mike Chatfield; Sergeant-at-arms, John Tyner, Ed Waddell, Bob Ehrhardt, and Les Judge; Social Commissioner, Chuck Isen, and MIA Representative, Dick Schutte. Mrs. Norene Whitener was house mother.

Montgomery . . . Munro

With about fifty men, Montgomery Hall participated successfully in campus activities throughout the year. Both individually and as a group, where the close cooperation and extreme friendliness of the men evidenced itself, the members of the dorm were active and made outstanding achievements in all fields of school life. Officers were Dan Organ, president; Bob DeGabrielle, vice-president; Marty Budzius, secretary; Joe McBee, treasurer; and Bob LaLonde and Roger Short, social commissioners. Rich Preston was house counselor. An event that long remains in the memory of Centralites is the annual "Last Round-up Dance" sponsored by Munro Hall. This dance, given the end of fall quarter, is noted for its original decorations. The dorm also participated in Homecoming activities, mixers, and other college functions. Officers for the year were Jim Hoon, president; Dick Rosencrans, vice-president; Jim Hogan, secretary-treasurer; Jim Carlton and Chuck Smith, Social Commissioners; Dick Hall, MIA Representative; Paul Bedard and Bill McKittrick, Sergeant-at-arms. Al Stevens was advisor-counselor.

Activities at Munson Hall during '54-'55 began with a constructive but effective initiation which launched the new "Munson Men" to campus life. After defeating the North Hall freshmen in the annual "tug of war" over the upper campus canal, they were honored at Munson's annual fall formal.

Homecoming was a big affair for the Munson men. Many hours were spent on the huge blanket that was presented in the sign competition. It covered a large area on the north side of Munson. Dorm members also worked on the skit and float.

Munson again came through with another first place in the Christmas choral competition for the fourth successive year.

In sports, the "boys across the street" took many first places in MIA competition.

The annual Cabaret Dance and climaxing spring picnic highlighted the year.

Leadership for the year was done by Don Lyall, president; Paul Guay, vice-president; Mel Beauchamp and Gary Johnson, secretaries; Don Goodale, treasurer; Bob Dalton and Jerry Ward, social commissioners; Gene Balint, SGA representative; and Dale Comstock, Don Bolton, Al Reiter, Chuck Hazen and Santos Pantoja, sergeants-at-arms. Mr. and Mrs. Loren McCracken were house councilors.

North Hall

NORTH HALL HOUSE COUNCIL

Early morning pushups (right) were only a few of the hi-jinx they were put through.

From the opening gun at the start of school to the quiet good-byes of friends and seniors at the close of the year North Hall had the ball rolling till it looked like it would never stop. They can be proud when they say that they started a few firsts on campus such as their winter formal which was held in the Student Union Building. Other activities included a private hayride, private formals, firesides, and a skating party.

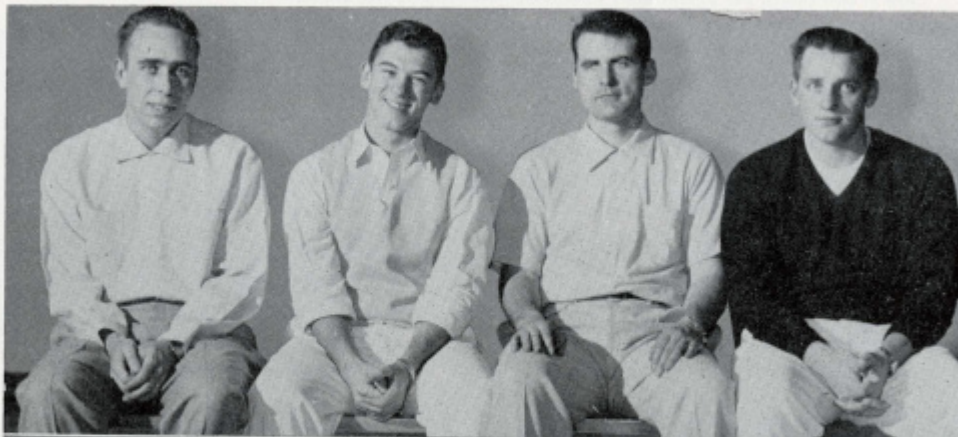

Genius and individuality calmed the jitters of the new school year when North Hall put on their annual Crazy Hat Dance. As Homecoming bounced onto campus, the men from the Walnut Street mansion beat the chill off C.W.C.E. during Stunt Night with a hilarious skit about Liberace, and by winning first place for their sign for Homecoming.

House Council members: President, Ray Hosford; Vice-president, Jerry Jones; Secretary, Herb Henley; Treasurer, Dave Divelbiss; Social Commissioner, Bob Sullivan; MIA Representative, Walt Wilson and Eugene Dudley; SGA Representative, Rudy Kovacevich; Sergeant-at-Arms, Bob Spearman; House Councilors, Don and Verna Duncan.

Off-Campus Men

OFF-CAMPUS MEN

Bettie Bailey's troop successfully conquers the enemy.

The aim of the Off-Campus Men's Club is to promote better relations among the students and create more interest in school activities. The club tries to furnish a place where the men can work as one group.

The year was started with a bang when the men wrote and enacted a hilarious homecoming skit. Off-Campus Women participated in the skit with them. The men also entered a float in the parade. Other activities during the year included dances, a fireside, and ski excursions.

Officers for the year were President, John Owen; Vice-president, Larry DiPalma; Secretary, Bennett Castleberry; and Treasurer, Dean Wake. Mr. Henry Eickhoff was advisor.

Vetville

Right: They might not get much painting done but they sure have fun.
Left: "Gee whiz, don't I get any?" asks the big eyes of the little one.

The Vetville housing project was constructed for married veterans after the Second World War, but is now open to all married students. Officers are elected each spring quarter. This year's officers were: Horace Propst, Jr., Mayor; Joe Carter, Vice Mayor; Maxine Sheppard, Secretary; Dick Torrens, Treasurer; Frances Tilton, Social Commissioner; Clark Mace, Jr., Historian; and Gene Fowler, SGA Representative.

Vetville conducts its meetings in its new meeting room completed this year. At these meetings plans were made for the Christmas party, Senior Day dance, and the annual May picnic; but there was a serious side to the meeting also. From informal discussions came many improvements including the establishment of a new wash house, a new meeting room, street lights, and a children's play ground now being constructed. The men and women of Vetville appreciate the help and cooperation given to all projects by Mr. Don Jongeward.

Homecoming Brings Fun and Gaiety

"Comic Capers," this year's Homecoming was considered the best ever by many members of the administration, alumni, and students. The big highlight of the festivities was the parade which included seven high school bands in addition to the college band, and many floats. All the other activities — dances, banquet, coronation, and alumni breakfasts — were equally successful. Perhaps the crowning achievement of the week-end was the winning of the football game, defeating Eastern 27-13. It was a weekend that will long remain in the memory of those participating in the activities.

DAD'S DAY COMMITTEE

Row 2: Kathryn Spurgeon, Fred Duncan, Marie Fugate, Jack Turner, Deloris Filleau, Gary Brown, Kathy Arnold.

The cast of the fall all-college play assembles on the set—Dave Patrick, Ronnie Magers, Blaine Thurman, Gary Irvine, John Connot, Roger Asselstine, Lynn Randall, Ben Castleberry, Trina Hoisington, Geraldine Poland, Larry Bowen, Jan Donaldson, and Pat Short.

Actors, Audiences, and Applause

Fall quarter was the advent of a new type set for "On Borrowed Time," a fantasy of "life where the woodbine twineth." Ben Castleberry, as the lovable Gramps, had an understanding of the boy, Pud, played by Lynne Randall, that was warm, heartfelt, and sometimes a little humorous. Gramps, Geraldine Poland, warm, and a little selfrighteous tried to control Gramps' temper and his even greater dislike for the old pismire, Aunt Demetria, Janet Donaldson.

Gramps' most disliked person, however, was the soft-spoken Mr. Brink, portrayed with ease by John Connot.

Trina Hoisington as Marcia, young, affectionate, and friendly to everyone, gave youth and life to the scenes in which she appeared. Evans and Pilbeam, the inquisitive and fact-finding doctor and lawyer were played by Pat Short and Larry Bowen respectively. Grimes, Roger Asselstine, was the butt of Gramps' cruel experiment of life and death. The sheriff, who didn't dare exercise his powers because of Gramps' strange power over death, was played by Gary Irvine. The apple stealing rogue, was impishly done by Ronnie Magers, and the slightly bewildered carpenters were Dave Patrick and Blaine Thurmond.

Left: "Pud ought to stay with us," Gramps (Ben Castleberry) retorts to Pat Short in a scene from "On Borrowed Time." Other cast members look on.
Right: "I love you, Gramps," says Pud to his grandfather in the fall all-college play.

Yes, the Play's the Thing

Has anybody seen HARVEY? He is a white rabbit about six feet two and he disappeared after the final curtain of the winter play of the said name. Elwood Dowd, Jerry Ward, is quite lost without his amiable companion. He is the stark enemy of Veta Louise, Grace Carlisle, the slightly wacky sister of Elwood. Her daughter's, Myrtle Mae, Floy Whitney, coming out party was ruined by the antics of this — rabbit? Mrs. Charweney was equally bewildered by the bunny that wasn't there.

The scene switches to "Chumley's Rest," a haven for people with pet rabbits? The head psychiatrist, Dr. Chumley, Jack Turner, was not beyond any trick to gain possession of Harvey, and his wife, Betty, Barbara Harker, didn't quite understand the meaning of the word "pooka." The orderly, Wilson, Dick Wilson, found the meaning and didn't like it. Dr. Sanderson, Jim Webster, and nurse Kelley, Dottie Dunn, seem to be the only sane people in the comedy. They care only for each other even if the little green man shows up now and then. Then of course the proverbial judge, Roger Berghoff, is slightly confused about the whole thing. And then there is the philosophical taxi driver, Steve Doutrich, who hates sane people.

Has ANYBODY seen "Harvey?"

The guest speakers which helped to carry out the program of discussions, firesides sessions, seminars, and assemblies were: Reverend Douglas Cedarleaf of the First Covenant Church in Spokane, Washington; Reverend Daniel J. Connors, O.M.I., who is participating in missionary work in the Western United States; Dr. L. David Cowie of the University Presbyterian Church in Seattle, Washington; Henry J. Eickhoff, of our own C.W.C. E. campus; Pastor A. Henry Hetland, who has been working with Lutheran student groups in eleven western states; Reverend Dave Seaman, who is working with Wesley Foundation at the University of Idaho; and Dr. Richard M. Steiner of the First Unitarian Church in Portland, Oregon.

Several of the outstanding events of the week included the showing of the film "Keys of the Kingdom" and two assemblies featuring Reverend Dave Seaman and Dr. L. David Cowie.

Religious Emphasis Week is sponsored by the United Council of Christian Faiths on our campus. Many other student youth groups helped during the week's activities including IVCF, Luther Club, Newman Club, Wesley Club, Roger Williams Fellowship, Westminster Club, and Disciple Student Fellowship.

Student chairman was John Grove. He was assisted by Roberta Carter, secretary; Carol Buckner, treasurer; Miss Margaret Scruggs, and Dr. Kenneth Lundberg, faculty advisors.

Let's Dance

Centralites danced their way through the year with a multitude of gay formal occasions.

It's a Grand Night for Singing

The Central Singers are a group of about 140 students under the direction of Mr. Wayne S. Hertz and Mr. Joseph Haruda, assistant director. From this group are chosen the seventy people who comprise the touring choir.

The choir itinerary this year included a trip early in March through the North Central Washington area. A second tour in April took the singers to Seattle for a performance on KING-TV, and a series of concerts at high schools on the west coast. The tour ended with several concerts given for the Northwest Music Educators Convention at Eugene, Oregon. The Central Singers also performed on the campus and for the towns surrounding Ellensburg, giving over thirty concerts throughout the year.

The choir rounded out the year with a spring concert featuring as their major work the Polovetski Dances by Borodin. The Concert Band played the accompaniment.

Officers for this year were Jack Turner, president; John Mitchell, vice-president; and Joyce Barnhart, secretary-treasurer.

The band is one of the busiest organizations on the campus. During football season it presents a halftime stunt for every home game. During basketball season a pep band was present to entertain the crowd as well as give the team some support.

During winter quarter the band toured the lower valley. Concerts were given at Selah, Wapato, Naches, Toppenish, Sunnyside, Goldendale, Kennewick, and Pasco High Schools. A spring quarter tour took the band to Cle Elum, Mount Si, Auburn, Foster, and Issaquah High Schools.

During spring quarter the band sponsored the traditional "Band Blare," given the night before Sweezy Day. The college dance band, "The Sweecians," provided the music for this well-remembered event.

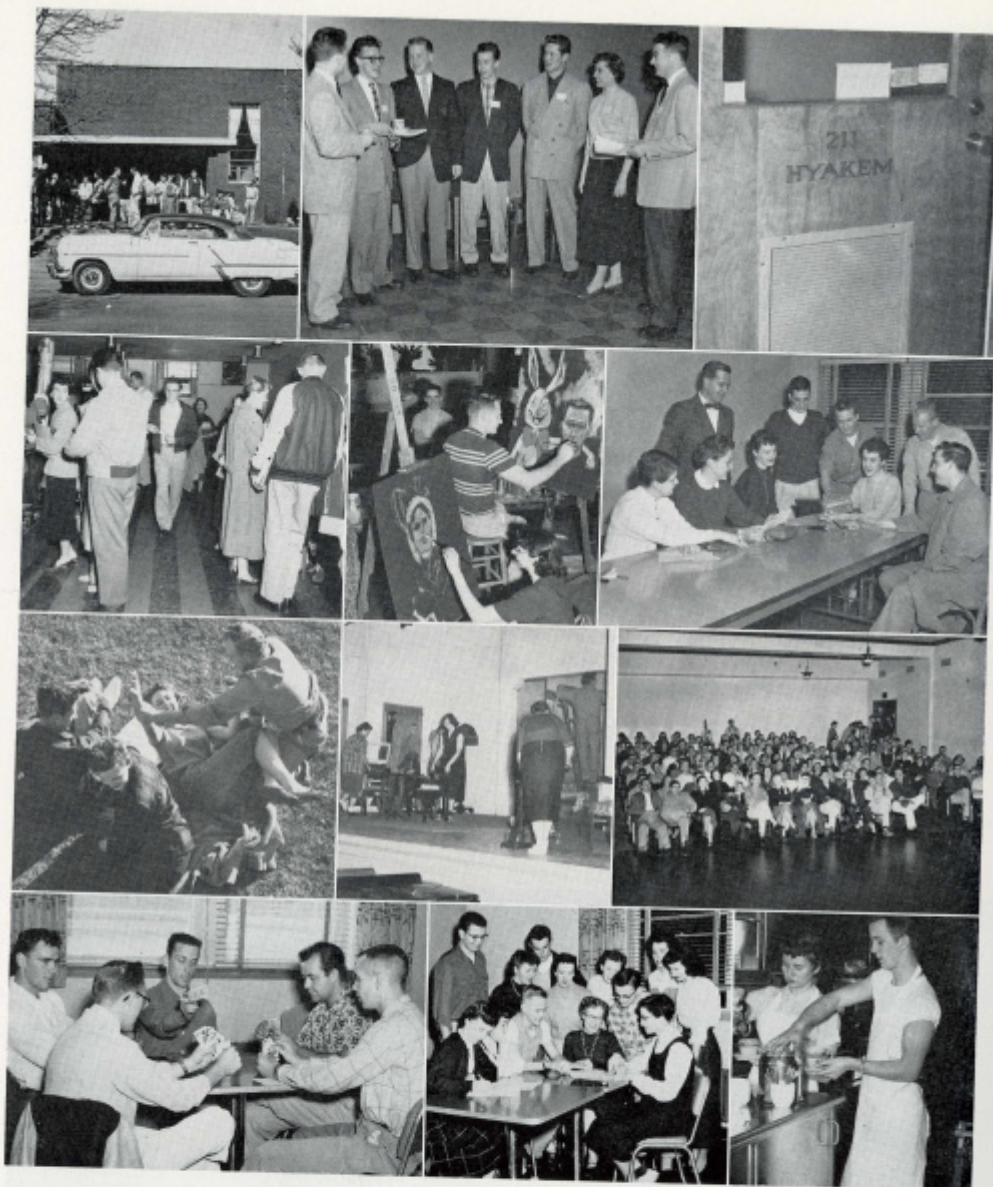

Band officers for this year were: President, Don Goodale; Vice-president, Harley Brumbaugh; Secretary-treasurer, Fred Duncan; Librarians, June Snodgrass and John Snyppe; Property Manager, Gary Johnson; and Student Director, Richard Frick. The band was under the baton of Associate Professor of Music, A. Bert Christianson. Mr. Christianson was also president of the Northwest Division of Music Educators.

Students Practice Politics

To interest young men and women in the problems of their government is one of the many purposes of the Young Democrats Club. An active organization, the club sponsored several films, had senators and representatives at meetings, and held panel discussions. The second annual Political Workshop was co-sponsored with the Young Republicans. Club officers for the year were Bob Allen, president; Dick Hall, vice-president; Chuck Yenter, secretary-treasurer; Lynne Fairman, publicity director; and Eldon Peterson, program chairman.

The C.W.C.E. Young Republicans Club is dedicated to getting students interested in partisan political activity. The Central Club is part of a state-wide college Young Republicans movement known as the College League. The College League sponsors political field days at the legislatures, conventions, and an active calendar for its participants. The CWCE Club this year sponsored political workshops, debates, and political speakers.

CUB Personnel, Vital to Campus Life

Top row: An important part of the campus: The cooks in the dining hall. Janet Marsh, assistant dietician. Barbara Hoffman, director of dormitories. The butcher prepares cuts of meat.

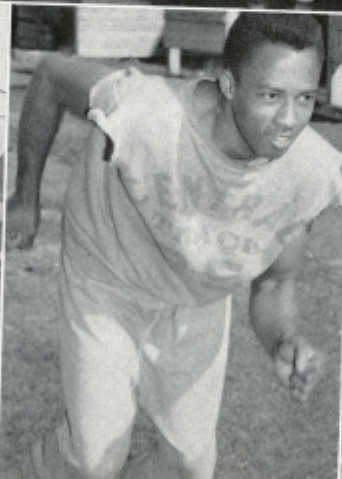

Row II: The CUB is fortunate in having such a capable and friendly supervisor as Mrs. Schnebley. Mrs. Young, always willing to help students, prepares an arrangement of flowers. "May I help you?" ask the ladies in charge of the bookstore.

Row III: Conscientious directors of the library are always willing to help students find material on suggested ideas.

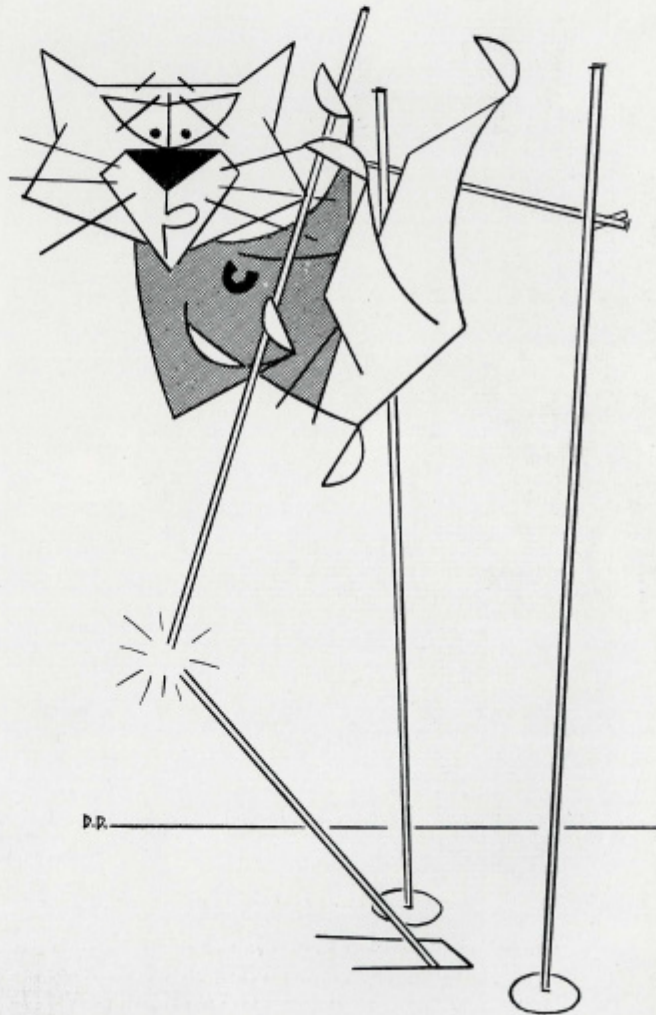

Row IV: Mrs. Shelton, efficient secretary to Dr. McConnell and supervisor of campus student employment. Feeling a little bit ill? Mrs. Taylor, head nurse, is the gal for you.

What would you do without maintenance men to do all those odd jobs and difficult tasks?

Discipline, fair play, cooperation and teamwork are characteristic of Central's athletic teams, whether they are engaged in basketball, football, tennis, track, or baseball. And behind every game stand the rooters cheering their team on to victory.

Teamwork. . . and Power

The Central Washington College 1954 Wildcat football squad ended the Evergreen Conference season with a 2-4 record. They lost their two non-conference games to Whitman 14-0 and Lewis and Clark 14-13 for an over-all season's record of 2-6.

In conference play the Cats were beaten 15-6 by Whitworth, the conference champs, at Spokane; lost to Pacific Lutheran College 20-7 at Ellensburg; were edged 6-0 by the College of Puget Sound in Tacoma; walloped Eastern Washington 27-13 in the Central Homecoming game; came from behind to drop the University of British Columbia 25-18 at Vancouver, B. C.; and lost the last game of the season to Western Washington 12-0 in the mud and rain at Bellingham.

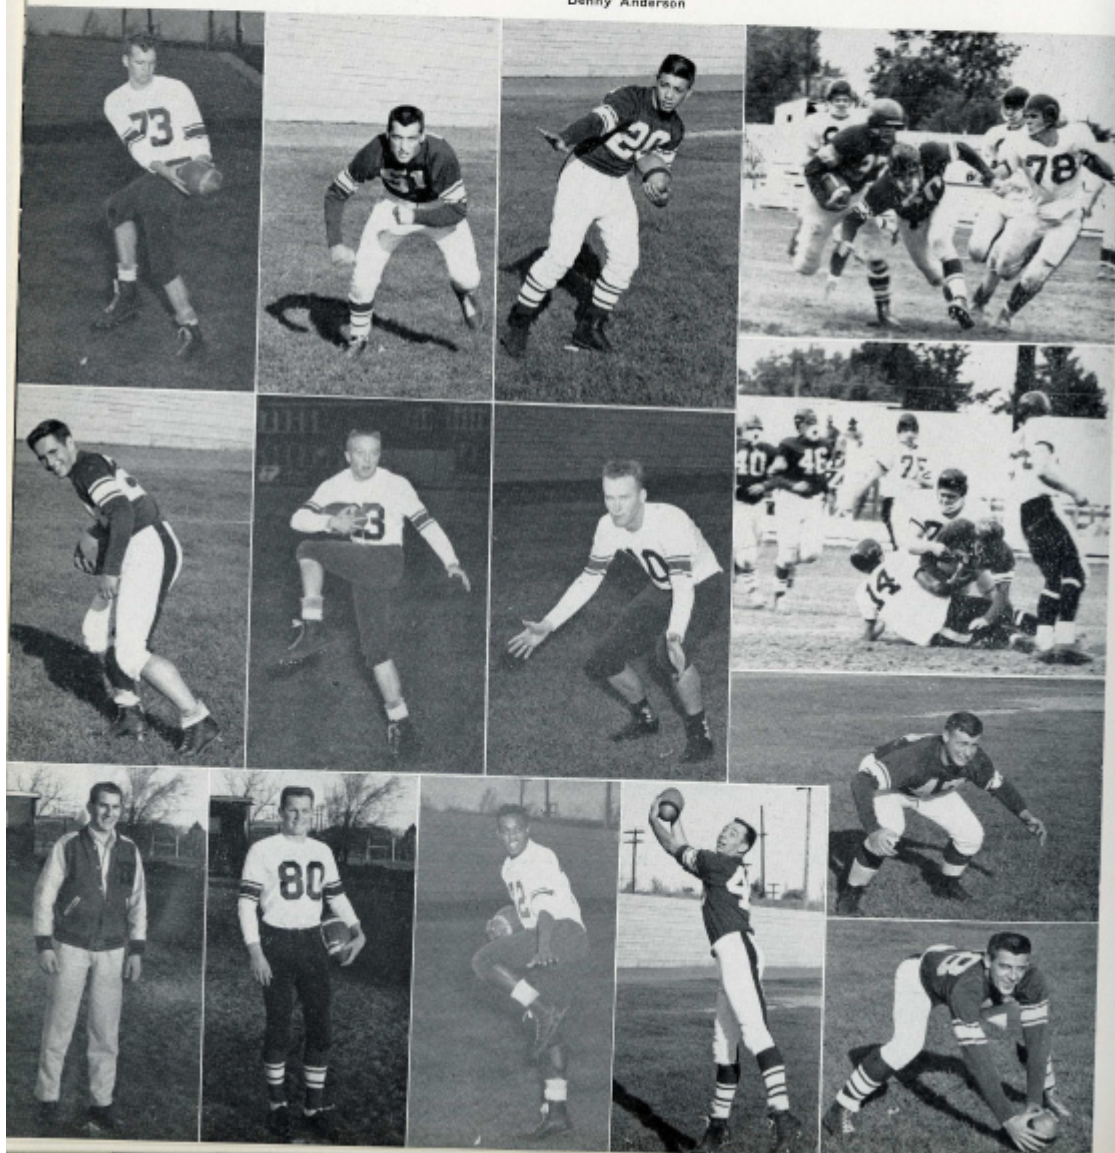

The 27-13 win over Eastern broke a seven-year Homecoming game jinx. This was Central's first win in a Homecoming tilt since 1947.

Anderson was picked on the third squad of the little All-Coast selections while Evans was selected for honorable mention on the Little All-American team.

Evans, Anderson and Morgan entered the service winter quarter and will not be back next fall when action starts on the gridiron. End Jack Dickinson and center Alfred Knutsen were also lost to the team by graduation. Otherwise, Central will have just about the same team next year.

At the end of the season Harriman and Lyall were elected honorary co-captains, Dickinson received the inspirational award, Morgan was chosen for the Rowley Blocking Award and Dale Lanegan was selected by his teammates as the outstanding freshman on the squad.

M.I.A. Provides Competition

The Men's Intramural Association enjoyed another successful year with many exciting and thrilling games being played in flagball, basketball, volleyball, and others. Two leagues, the National and American, were formed and men from every living group were represented. Any man enrolled at Central and not taking part in other organized sports could participate, with the Nicholson Trophy being awarded to the organization garnering the most activity and participating points in intramural sports throughout the school year.

In flagball this year North Hall I captured the American League crown and Off-Campus the National League. In the final play-off game, an underdog North Hall I team defeated Off-Campus 12 to 0 for the title.

Munson IV took the MIA volleyball crown as they downed North Hall in the third and deciding game.

In basketball competition, the A.S.D. team defeated the Kennewicks for the American League championship and Munson IV took the National League title. In the playoff Munson IV ended an unbeaten season by defeating A.S.D., winning the double honor of basketball champions and the only team to wind up unbeaten.

Headlining

Coach Leo Nicholson's 1954-55 basketball season was very successful, as his basketballers posted a season's record of 17 wins against only five losses. The Wildcats won 10 straight in non-conference tilts and took third in the Evergreen Conference race with a record of seven wins and five losses.

Nicholson, in his 24th season of basketball at Central, had a hustling squad which relied upon the fast break to make up their lack of height. The squad was composed of seven returning lettermen of which only two were seniors. These two seniors, Don Heacox and Bob Logue, will be missed very much next season.

At the end of the season the team voted forward Jack Brantner inspirational player of the season. He was the third high scorer of the team during the season, ending up behind the two starting guards, Heacox and Don Myers. Heacox scored 320 points in Central's 22 games.

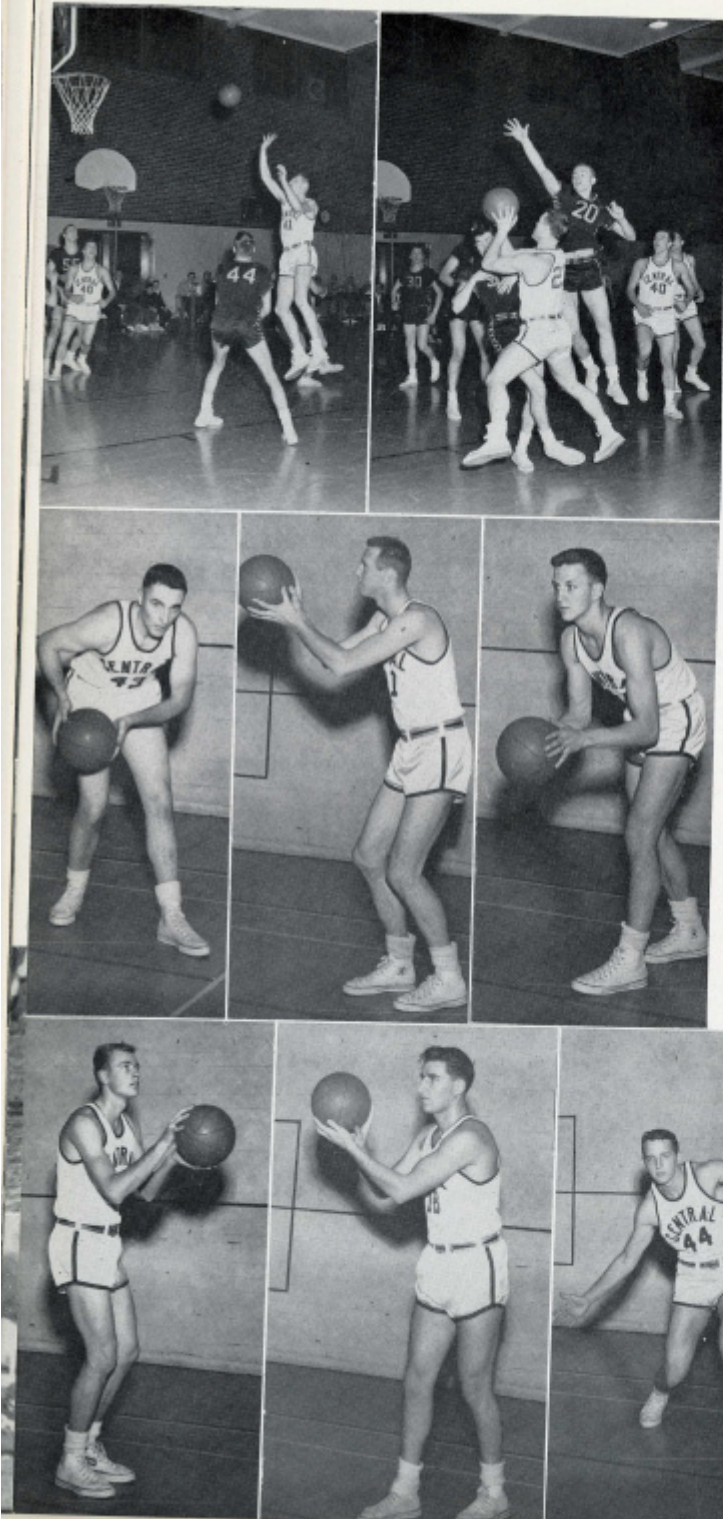

Central's only losses of the season were two each to Whitworth and Pacific Lutheran and a single loss to Western Washington College.

The seven returning lettermen were Logue, Bob Dunn, Myers, Heacox, Bob Maynick, Don Lyall and Arch McCallum.

Central was the last college in the state of Washington to be defeated during the 1954-55 season. They won straight games until they lost to PLC in Ellensburg early in January.

Diamond Dusters

The Wildcats opened the defense of their Eastern Division title by turning back the Eastern Washington Savages 7-3 and 5-4 on April 30. The Evergreen Conference is divided into the Eastern and the Western divisions with Central, Eastern and Whitworth in the Eastern division.

Coach Warren Tappin's baseballers won 11 and lost 4 in pre-conference games. They beat Yakima Jaycee four straight, split two games with Seattle Pacific, took three out of four from PLC and CPS, and lost a nine-inning tilt to the Pro Yakima Bears of the Northwest League.

Tappin has an experienced squad as he lost only five players due to graduation from his Eastern division championship team of last year.

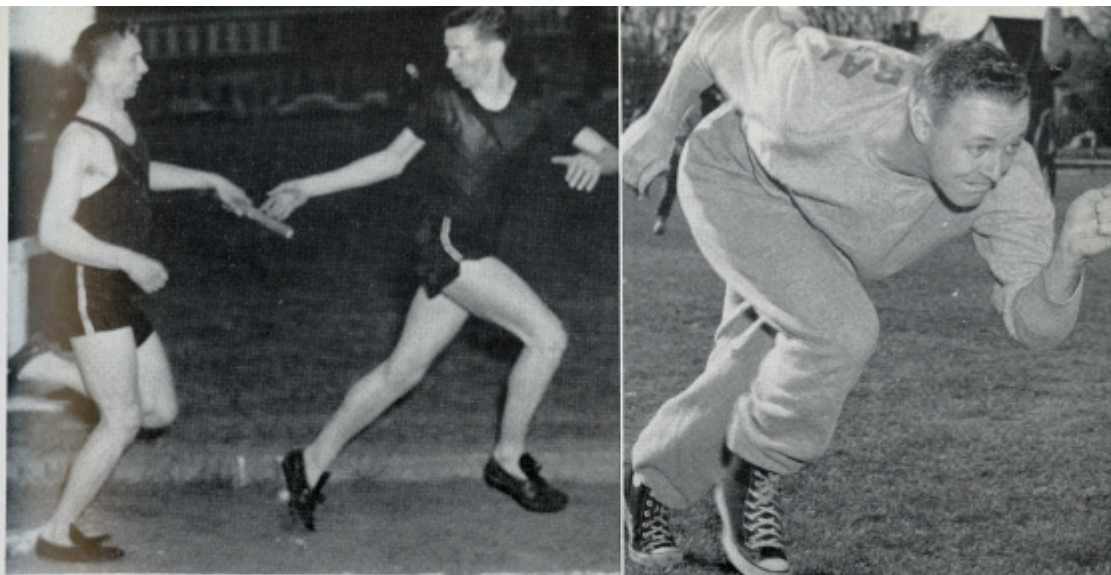

The Wildcats are strong on lettermen with four pitchers, seven lettermen infielders and three lettermen outfielders. Right fielder Remo Nicoli was an unanimous all-conference selection last spring as a freshman and pitcher Driessen, with a 4-0 record as a frosh, was also selected on the honor team.

. . . And Cinder Burners

Central's thinclads won their first three track meets of the 1955 track season before they bowed to the Eastern Washington Savages.

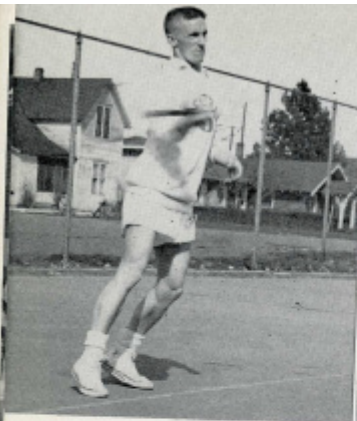

With 12 returning lettermen coach Monty Reynolds' thinclads started the season off right by trimming the College of Puget Sound Loggers 97-34 at Tacoma on April 9. In the process of beating the Loggers, the Cats swept three events and broke five CWC-CPS dual meet records. Don Pierce proved a speed demon in Century, breaking the record. In the dual meet with Pacific Lutheran on April 23 the Cats dumped the Lutes 96-35. On April 30 the Central cindermen traveled to Eastern and came home with an 86½ to 45½ thumping.

Returning lettermen were Paul Guay, Mike Higgins and Larry Bowen in the middle distances; Pierce and Ray Adams in the sprints; Walt Wilson and Jim Stackpole in the distances; Bourn, broad jump; Arlie Eaton, javelin; Carlos Henry, weights; and George Seiler, high jump.

Battling Netmen

Coach Leo Nicholson's tennis squad started the 1955 tennis season with a bang as they won their first four matches. They then dropped their next two matches to the Seattle Pacific Falcons in non-conference play.

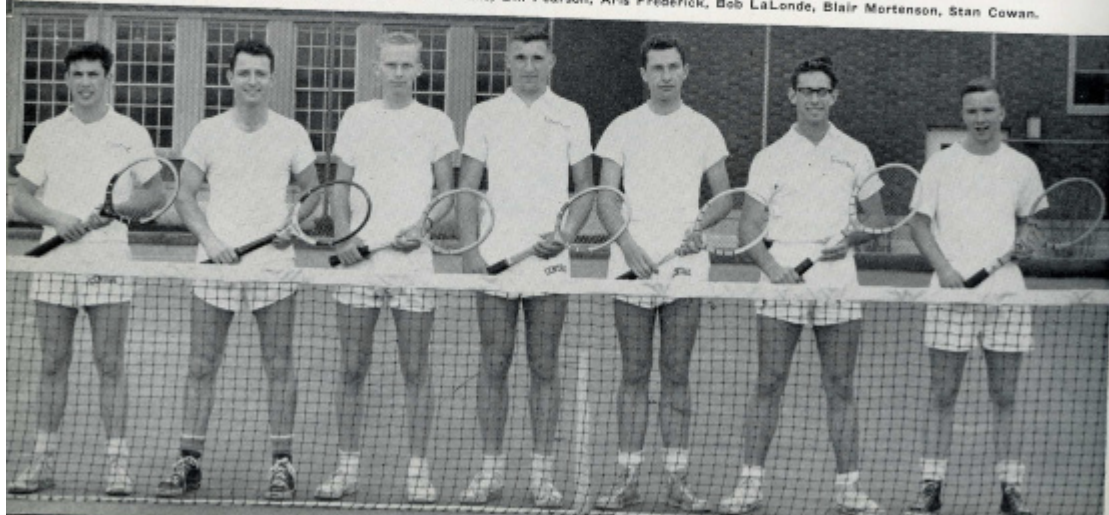

Nicholson's netmen took the Yakima Junior College tennis squad 7-2 and 5-2, beat the College of Puget Sound racketmen 5-2 and swept all seven matches from Pacific Lutheran College as they won their first four matches.

The Seattle Pacific squad was very strong this spring and they beat the Cats 5-2 at Seattle and 4-3 at Ellensburg. In the matches at Ellensburg, Aris Frederick, Central's No. 1 man, beat Joe Obi who is rated one of the top tennis players in Nigeria.

On May 6 and 7 the racketmen from Central played Whitworth and Eastern and then played return matches with them at Ellensburg on May 13 and 14 as they tuned up for the Evergreen Conference Meet which was held at Whitworth on May 20-21.

Netmen back from last spring's squad were Aris Frederick, Bill Pearson and Bob Allen. The other two men on the five-man squad were frosh Blair Mortensen and Junior Bob LaLonde.

WESTERN-ENGRAVED
ANNUALS
ARE BETTER
ANNUALS !

WESTERN'S skilled craftsmen and well-trained staff furnish the most brilliant reproduction of your pictures and the most complete service and assistance available anywhere.

More award-winning yearbooks have been engraved by WESTERN than by all other Pacific Northwest firms combined.
